Wow! I am so excited. It was my lucky day, I found not just one, but two of the greatest bras, ever. You know, we all have our wish list when it comes to this bare essentials. Of course it has to fit comfortably, right? Naturally we could all use a little support, a little padding would be good and it has to look pretty. I mean who doesn't want to look pretty in there 34B bra?

Anyway after searching through department stores and specialty shops I found Soma store and was so happy with all the bra choices they had for 34B. Really lots to choose from but I loved the "Essence Holly Push Up Bra". It had everything I was looking for and more.

This is the bra that I'll wear with everything. It will look perfect under my fit tee-shirts or cling sweater. It provides great support and a nice enhancing life that looks so natural. The soft microfiber fabric feels soft against my skin, no rubbing or binding just a smooth comfortable fit. Ok ...here is the best part! It is beautiful and makes me feel really pretty with it's European lace straps and lace trim. It is so cute I am getting it in the chocolate, but that tan and black are great two. Maybe I better get all three.

My second fabulous find was the "Somo Lacy Brittney Bra". I wanted something a little racy, a little sexy to wear under some of my evening dress or my silk blouses. Sometimes, I just want to wear something special. Of course, nothing is worst than not having the right bra for the right outfit. It can make or break the whole look.

As always comfort and fit are key but this bra with it's deep plunge and contoured demi cups for great lift and sexy cleavage was perfect. The all over lacy-e design with the little satin bow and rhinestone charm detail are to cute.... I can't wait till date night!

I've been finding some really cute lingerie on independent websites and from unknown designers. I wanted to share some of what I find with the rest of the world so I started this blog. I hope you enjoy!
